NORMAL COLLEGE BASEBALL CHANCES ARE GOOD FOR 1925

ALMA HERE APRIL 24; FIRST HOME GAME OF NOR-MAL TEAM

ALMA NINE WILL BE HERE ON APRIL 24

Normals Start M. I. A. A. By Out of Town Games at Albion and Kalamazoo

Alma at Ypsilanti will be the first home baseball game of the season for the Michigan State Normal College team, Friday, April 24. Previous to this game Coach McCulloch will take his men on a three day trip to Kalamazoo and Albion. This makes two association games to be played the first week and one with Alma the second week of the season.

Prospects for a championship team are bright this year with nine letter men out for practice—Lau, Fenner, Hinkley, Patterson, Matthews, Lappeus, Shehan, Pfahler, Davidson. Besides these, Martin, Weeber, Thompson, Vining, Schaffer, Barclay and Vedder are making a strong bid for the squad.

Practice Started Monday

Practice started Monday with about fifty candidates out. With this large group some are certain to be disappointed early in the season, but those who don't make a wonderful start may step in the lineup later and take a position. Coach McCulloch, in talking to his candidates during practice, assured them that each would have a fair chance and would be given an opportunity to show their ability as soon as they have shown that they are worthy. He also stated that the letter men from last year need not feel that they had a position on the team until they had shown their superiority. In other words, the best man will fill the positions, which will make a winning team possible.

Other Teams Strong

The five other M. I. A. A. schools, Alma, Albion, Kalamazoo College, Hillsdale and Olivet, are claiming a strong chance for the title. Alma and Albion each have a large number of old men back.

LETTERS AWARDED FOR BASKETBALL

The awards for the past basketball season have been made. The following men were awarded letters: Captain Charles Lappeus, Ex-Captain Francis Davidson, Donald Draper, Leroy Pfahler, James Barclay, Robert Button, Ebenezer Chaffee, David Baer, John Heitsch, Frank Weeber.

Normal Choir Makes Its Appearance in Detroit

GIVES BACH'S PASSION UNDER DIRECTION OF FREDER- ICK ALEXANDER

(By James Breakay)

The Normal College Choir gave the Bach St. Matthew Passion music at the afternoon and evening services of the North Woodward Congregational Church, Detroit, Sunday, March 22, with Professor Frederick Alexander, conductor. They were assisted by the vested choir of the North Woodward Church, which is directed by Russell Gee of the Normal College Conservatory faculty.

The setting was entirely appropriate to the occasion. The white regalia of the choir, the dim light of the high-vaulted church, the conductor and reader in their robes of purple and black, altogether created the spiritual atmosphere for the great masterpiece of music. Then the rich fullness of the organ furnished a majestic foundation on which the choir's superb tonal structure could be built.

Much credit is due Mr. Gee who

PITTMAN DEMOCRAT BUT NO POLITICIAN

NAME OF RURAL HEAD ON BALLOTS IN SPIKE OF PROTEST

Some time ago the evening paper conveyed the surprising news to Dr. M. S. Pittman of the rural education department that he was a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction in Michigan on the Democratic ticket. Dr. Pittman is an ardent Democrat but he is not an ardent politician, so he promptly phoned the state chairman of the Democratic committee to inform him that there had been a grievous miscarriage of good intentions. He stated that he could not accept the nomination. So, thinking everything was settled, our rural education leader went back to his bluebooks and his rattling Ford.

The next act of this play took place when Dr. Pittman received a sample ballot, featuring his name, from the secretary of the state committee. He again stated that he could not serve and returned to his peaceful vocation of assigning parallels and meridians to his zone schools.

Secretary of State Deland was interested in the matter, however, so a letter came from him asking how much our famous Democrat had spent to secure the nomination (not an accusation of a bribe but merely business). Dr. Pittman replied that he had spent nothing. In fact, his only expense was for a long distance call when he tried to refuse the honor. He still thought that he was not a candidate, but wait.

Sample ballots came to him from the various counties, proving that they regarded the matter very seriously. Another conference with the Democratic chairman revealed the fact that the process of selecting a new candidate would be too expensive for the party to finance. So Dr. Pittman's name remained on the ballot.

When the Normal News reporter interviewed the defeated candidate last Tuesday, he found the latter not at all cast down over the defeat. Nor did the reporter find him unduly elated over the news that he had run somewhat ahead of his ticket. In fact, the rural education professor had not been sufficiently interested in the Democratic politician's race for honors to read the morning paper containing the results of the contest! Can you beat it?

OLDS SENDS OUT SPRING TRACK CALL

The track team is now beginning spring workouts on the new track. Some of the men have been slow to respond to the call which was sent out just before spring vacation. The first meet is only a week away and all men are urged to report at once.

A weakness is evident in the field events. Men are especially needed in the shot put, discus, javelin, broad jump and high jump.

Anyone interested in track is invited to report for practice. The track is in fine shape and with the present weather conditions development of the men is rapid.

NEW TRACK READY FOR COMPETITION

The new athletic field has just been completed and the track men are working out on the new track. The pits are in excellent condition and have received compliments from many persons who have inspected them. There is a 220 yard straight away. The track is oval shaped a quarter-mile around.

Dedication for the track will take place April 24 when Ypsi meets Hillsdale here. The ceremonies will be planned later.

Installation of the new Y. W. C. A. cabinet will take place Wednesday, April 15, at vespers.

PROFESSOR'S PAPER BRINGS COMMENT

NEW YORK TIMES EDITORIAL
DISCUSSES PROF. JEFF-ERSON'S VIEWS

Three quarters of a column of the editorial section of last Sunday's New York Times was devoted to the leading article in the April number of The Geographical Review on the formula of Malthus on the geometrical increase of population and the arithmetical increase of food, written by Professor Mark Jefferson of the Normal College. The Times did not mention, however, that Professor Jefferson is located at Ypsilanti.

The editorial in The Times was written in criticism of the "neo-Malthusian" conference on birth control which was held recently in New York.

The Times states of Professor Jefferson's article:

"He denies both the geometry and the arithmetic. Next to the universality of the growth of population he finds the most striking tendency to be a slowing down of the rate of growth in the larger countries. Malthus predicted a doubling of the population of the United States every twenty-five years. This held true up to 1890. But we are now thirty-four years away from 1890 and still 13,000,000 short of another doubling.

"Overestimating the growth of population, Malthus greatly overestimated the growth of food, according to Professor Jefferson," the Times continues. "The Englishman of 1798 could not foresee the conquest of the world by steam and the opening up of vast new food areas. Ironically enough, the check to population which he foresaw as supplied by hunger is really being supplied by abundance, by an increased standard of living. Those classes to whom the day's food is a standard problem are increasing much more rapidly than those which take no concern for tomorrow's bread."

NORMAL ENTERED AT OHIO RELAYS

Coach Olds has entered three relay teams at the Ohio Relays to be held next Friday and Saturday. He may enter Seed in the pole vault. Last year the teams were successful and returned with gold watches which are given as awards to members of winning teams.

The half-mile relay team should prove superior in its race as the college is well equipped with sprinters. About ten men will be trying out for that team.

The one-mile team, although it has been defeated twice by City College, is nevertheless one of the fastest in the Mid-West.

The two-mile team was an easy winner at the state carnival and will be ready for a lively fight. Coach Olds expects his teams to do something and present indications further his hopes.

CAPTAIN PEEL WINS IN HURDLE RACE

YPSI MEDLEY RELAY TEAM
TAKES SECOND PLACE
AT CARNIVAL

The special carnival at Detroit last Monday and Tuesday, sponsored by the Michigan A. A. U., attracted many national track men and college athletes. Ypsi entered sprinters and hurdlers and also two relay teams.

The medley relay team composed of Otto, Snarey, Carpenter and Wetzel was defeated on the opening night by the University of Michigan team. Tuesday night Ypsi's one-mile team defeated the U. of M. team but yielded to City College of Detroit.

Captain Bob Peel won the high hurdle event from a fast field. Bob took the lead right from the pits and held it all the way.

Among the stars competing at the coliseum were Nurmi, the world's greatest runner; Ritola, winner of two events at the 1924 Olympics; Joie Ray of Illinois A. C.; Jackson Sholz of Boston A. C., world's 200 meter champion; Lloyd Hahn of Boston A. A., and DeHart Hubbard of Michigan.

Y. W. FINANCE CAMPAIGN WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK

The Y. W. C. A. finance campaign will begin next week. Before asking for the contributions the "Y" girls believe that students should know why the Y. W. C. A. is an organization worthy of support. The Y. W. serves students by: providing rooms for study, reading or sleep; co-operating with the Y. M. C. A. and the city churches in holding religious meetings; conducting weekly vesper services; offering a place to meet friends and doing social service—both local and foreign social service work.

Starkweather Hall, the Y. W. C. A. building, is a social center for all organizations on the campus. The estimated expenditures of the "Y" are $2,525 with an income of $1,725, leaving $800 to be raised by student and faculty subscription Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

TEACHER GRADUATE 'HEIR OF THE AGES'

Dr. Ford Stresses Duties of Teachers and Students in Convocation Address

Eight students received the Bachelor of Arts degree, two the Bachelor of Science degree and 112 received life certificates at the winter term convocation on Thursday morning, March 26. President McKenny presided. Rev. William Shaw gave the invocation. A vocal solo by Mrs. Annis Dexter Gray, piano solo by Miss Grace Emery, a number by the Normal String Quartet and selections by Mosher's College Orchestra were the musical features of the program.

In "Our Inheritance," Dr. Ford gave a discourse of the wealth that has accrued in learning, in religion and in our political and social life. He especially stressed that students and teachers were the caretakers of the wealth of the ages, and that they were to act as interpreter, transmitting and expanding the treasures of the past to the coming generations.

Dr. Ford emphasized the importance of racial history in inheritance by citing the records of the Edwards and Jukes families.

He told how mathematics, astronomy, art and literature began with the first man of Europe and how as ages passed wisdom accumulated and was transmitted on to man of today.

"What are we going to do with this wealth of the ages?", asked Dr. Ford, in stressing the part that he believes teachers and students should take in preserving and passing on treasures of the past. He stated that the teachers should act as a leader and guide in patriotism, that intelligence was the only safeguard of citizenship and that religion has been our inheritance through the stamp of Puritanism.

To teach the child good taste and a high regard for others is part of the duties of the teacher as a leader and guide and as a guardian of the treasures of mankind, said Dr. Ford.

SPRING FOOTBALL PRACTICE STARTED

The opening of the spring term opened outdoor practice for three Normal teams with the baseball team at Recreation Park, the football team on the old field and the track team on the new track.

Coach Ryneearson, who is to coach here next year, has charge of the spring football practice this week. Coach Brown will be his able assistant in teaching the men football tactics. About thirty candidates reported for practice this week. Most of them are from last fall's squad.

Four programs were given during the term. Each program consisted of two or three short plays. The class did all of the staging, costuming and acting. These phases of the work furnished the practical problems for the students to work out. Visitors at the plays were charged a slight admission fee to cover the cost of production.

LIBRARY

"The art of helping people out of trouble" by Karl de Schweinitz is an inspirational discussion on the art of living and helping other people to live happily. The author, who is secretary of the Philadelphia Society for Organizing Charity, has faith in the ability of human beings to achieve happiness, if rightly directed. The book will be found valuable by teachers, parents, physicians and by anyone who is in a position to influence other people.

The problem of sex equality is freshly treated in the book by the French writers, Mathilde and Mathias Vaerting, which they call, "The dominant sex." The authors' contention is that the chief differences between the sexes are mainly determined by the dominance of one sex over the other. In various states in primitive times, woman was dominant and then possessed all the traits which we are now accustomed to call "masculine." Now that the pendulum has swung the other way we call her characteristics "feminine," when they are merely those of a subordinate sex. The authors conclude that no civilization can reach its highest development under a mono-sexual government and that the ideal government is one in which the sexes are absolutely equal. It is altogether a highly suggestive and stimulating book, written in a most interesting style.

Here's a style that says
"I told you so"

When Walk-Over presented the Pug oxford, you were promised that it would be an outstanding style for spring. Look about on the feet of smartly dressed girls. Everywhere you see what looks like the Walk-Over Pug, except for one thing. Nobody can put into short-vamp, wide-toe youthful styles the fit, quality and value put there by Walk-Over, the originator of this style.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

SCHOOLMASTERS' CLUB

There was a meeting of one division of the Schoolmasters' Club, the Deans and Girls Advisors, in Ann Arbor Friday, April 3. The Dean and one or two girl representatives from each college and university in Michigan attended the convention. Ruth Bayler, president of the Women's League, and Mary Long were the representatives from the Michigan State Normal College.

Luncheon was served at the Michigan Union for all the visitors. Immediately after the luncheon, the girls held their meeting at the Martha Cook dormitory. The Deans of the various schools held their meeting at the Michigan Union building.

The Dean of Women at Kalamazoo presided at the girls' meeting and Dean Hamilton of the University of Michigan was also present.

At this meeting, the various problems found among girls at college were discussed. First, they discussed the student handbook project. A committee was formed to revise and publish a student handbook which can be used by any college or university in the state of Michigan. They also talked about the best way to present these student handbooks to girls on the campuses.

The subject of the Y. W. C. A. on the college campus was talked over by the girls.

Another topic brought up was that of rushing, both for literary societies and sororities.

A subject that was fully discussed was that of student government. At the University of Michigan there are no girls on the Student Council and at some colleges there are no Men's Unions. This situation gave rise to the question of just where the authority of the girls' organizations should end and that of the Student Council begin. This was talked over thoroughly by the girls.

The girls also talked about the Big Sister Movement. Some of the colleges have been especially successful in this movement. Girls from these colleges are going to write to Ruth Bayler and tell her just how and why they succeeded, so that by next year the girls will have the Big Sister Movement "going good" on the Normal College campus.

This concluded the meeting and afterward, Bernice Thompson, house president of the Martha Cook building, took the whole body of girls on a "sight-seeing" tour through the dormitory. This was very interesting to all the visitors, especially those from the smaller colleges of the state.

NORMAL CHOIR AP-

year's task by ordinary conductors of college choirs. Not so, Professor Alexander. No sooner is the winter term begun than he institutes the rigorous disciplining and coaching for the St. Matthew Passion music. How he leads these untrained voices to work out the infinite number of details and inspires them with the mighty character of the work is a mystery to all musicians, and the director alone knows the secret.

When it is considered that only eleven weeks are used in preparation, one is amazed at the maturity of the results. To the evident technical merits of the choir are to be added a remarkable insight into the spirit of Bach, and this in one of his most intricate masterpieces. This year the choir has a finer sensitiveness in response, it is a greater artistic unit, and its voice, therefore, is the more authoritative; the sermon it sings in the Passion music was correspondingly more eloquent and inspiring.

It is entirely fitting that the choir should give the Passion music in Detroit. Thus is afforded this well-known musical organization two highly significant appearances, at Christmas and in Lent, both of which the Detroit music-lovers have requested. In this way a greater public is served and the high musical standards of the college presented in a most convincing manner.

Professor Alexander may feel

NO CAT'S WHISKERS
IN THIS BLAZE

Two Normal College girls were "burned out" and seven others were in danger of being so in a fire which Wednesday afternoon ruined the third floor of their rooming house at 217 North Summit, run by Mrs. Kelsey.

No, there were no cat's whiskers. It was a real fire. From an unknown cause, thought to be the chimney, fire broke out in the third floor of the house at about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The fire department succeeded in getting the blaze extinguished in a short time, but not before the entire top story had been ruined.

gratified that his appearance with the choir either in Ypsilanti or Detroit is the occasion for the presence of the leading musicians of the state. Notable among these was Ossip Gabrilowitsch at the afternoon service in Detroit, who spoke in the highest terms of the director's work. A distinguished name for himself has already been made by Mr. Alexander as a conductor of the Russian liturgical and other Christmas choral music. And now this noteworthy performance of the Bach adds a significant importance to it. Certainly he may be termed a "musician's musician." We can only wonder what new worlds he will next set out to conquer.
